Wednesday • April 1, 2015 • 5pm • Rabb Room

Sponsored by the Consortium of Studies in Race, Colonialism, and Diaspora, the Department of Sociology, The Latino Center, and the program in Latin American Studies.

Being Black Ain’t So Bad: Dominicanas Negotiating Race and Belonging Across the Atlantic

Lorgia García Peña

Assistant Professor of Romance Languages and Literatures and of History and Literature at Harvard University, and Co-Founder of Freedom University, Atlanta Georgia

“Freedom University is a modern day freedom school based in Atlanta. We provide rigorous college-level classes, scholarship assistance, and leadership development for undocumented students in Georgia. As a result of our work, one out of every five students that walks into Freedom University banned from public higher education in Georgia leaves with a full merit scholarship to a college out of state.”