Writing Ourselves Whole
A writing workshop with Jen Cross

Writing is a way to discover and honor our resilience and our resistance. Many survivors of sexual trauma feel fragmented, disjointed, and may believe we’ll always feel this way. Transforming our language is one way we transform our lives; we can create new art and new beauty out of the difficult and complicated realities of our lives.

You'll leave this workshop with: a renewed sense of yourself as resiliently creative, a rich body of new creative writing, and connection with a new writing community.

Jen Cross has facilitated sexuality and sexual trauma survivors writing workshops for over a decade, and has worked with hundreds of writers throughout the U.S. She is the author of Writing Ourselves Whole: Using the Power of Your Own Creativity to Recover and Heal from Sexual Trauma (Mango, 2017). Her fiction and creative nonfiction have appeared in over 50 anthologies and periodicals. Find out more at writingourselveswhole.org

Monday, APRIL 9, 2018
12:30 PM-2:00 PM
CHAT
48 Professors Row/Medford, MA

light refreshments~ RSVPs to wgss@tufts.edu