To fulfill a Minor in Child Study and Human Development, five courses from the Eliot-Pearson Department of Child Study and Human Development are required.

The Department of Child Study and Human Development offers a minor in child study and human development.

Five courses taken within the department are required. ONE of the five must be taken from among the following foundational courses:

- CSHD 1: Introduction to Child Study and Human Development
- CSHD 51 or 151: Intellectual Development
- CSHD 61 or 161: Personal-Social Development
- CSHD 62: Childhood Across Cultures
- CSHD 155: The Young Child’s Development of Language

The remaining four (4) courses must be CSHD (or CSHD cross-listed) courses. Courses taken outside the CSHD offerings will not be counted toward the CSHD minor.

Because one goal of the minor is to introduce students to the various disciplines within the department, no course substitutions from other departments or other universities will be accepted. The four Child Study and Human Development electives are to be chosen with the assistance of George Scarlett who serves as the advisor for all those minoring in CSHD.
It is the student’s responsibility to confirm that all paperwork has been completed so that the minor appears on their transcript.
