Jean Wyllys Santos is a journalist, writer with five published books, Master in Letters and Linguistics from the Federal University of Bahia; and visiting researcher at ALARI at Hutchins Center (Harvard University). He held two parliamentary mandates for the defense of human and minority rights, the first openly gay congressman in defense of the LGBTQ+ community. He has been exiled since December 2018 due to death threats.

This event is sponsored by the Department of Romance Studies with support from the Diversity Fund, the Toupin-Bolwell Fund, Africana Studies, Latin American Studies, Media and Film Studies, Sociology, and Women’s, Gender and Sexuality Program.